Parashas Vayigash

Chanukah and the Battle of the Bulge

At the beginning of today's Parashah, Vayigash, we find Yehudah entering into a confrontation with the Viceroy of Egypt, whom he as yet does not realize is Yoseph. He is resolved to substitute himself as a servant to the Viceroy in the place of his brother, Binyamin. He has inserted himself into the matter because of the commitment he made to his father, "I will personally guarantee his safe return; of my hand you can demand him; If I do not bring him back to you and stand him before you, I will have sinned against you for all time." (Bereshit 43:9) And Rashi explains that "all time" includes the World-to-Come.

We have seen Yehudah rise to greatness before. Tamar, at her trial, indirectly implicates Yehudah for putting her in the predicament in which she finds herself, teaching the lesson that it is better to cast oneself into a fiery furnace than to embarrass another publicly. Yehudah confesses, "...She is more righteous than I..." (Bereshit 38:26) From the behavior of both, we see the power of righteousness to overcome the destructive force of fire.

On Chanukah, the Festival of Lights, we kindle Menorot, in commemoration of another occasion when the light of righteousness prevailed, this time over the false light of Hellenism. When we kindle the Menorah, we recite the blessing, "Blessed are You, HaShem, our G-d and the G-d of our fathers, Who sanctified us with His Commandments, and commanded us to kindle the Light of Chanukah." Combustion, burning, can also be within the realm of holiness. Chanukah is the Holiday on which we commemorate the rededication of the sacrificial altar in the past, and sing in prayer for its rededication yet again in the future:

"O Mighty Rock of my salvation,

To praise You is most fitting;

Restore my House of Prayer,

And there we will bring you a Thanksgiving offering..."

Seven years ago, my family attended the 60th Anniversary commemoration of the Battle of the Bulge, that occurred December, 1944 – January, 1945, in which American forces defeated Hitler's army in the Bastogne area of Belgium. My father-in-law, Mr. Josef Bienstock, who was then attached to the Seventh Armored Battalion and part of a team that interrogated Nazi POW's, was one of three veterans of that conflict who spoke. In his remarks, he made reference to the fact that he was born in Germany, and barely escaped capture by the Nazis. He mentioned that in November, 1938, the terrible event that foreshadowed the disaster that was to come upon the Jewish People, "Kristal-Nacht," the Night of Shattered Glass, occurred, in which synagogues all over Germany were burnt to the ground. That was an occasion when the destructive power of fire seemed to be triumphant, as it was when the Temples were burnt first by the Babylonians and then by the Romans. However, when the Romans murdered the Ten Martyrs, including Rabbi Chanina ben Teradyon, they wrapped him in a Sefer Torah, and set it afire. When the great Sage was asked by his students what he saw at the moment of his martyrdom, he answered, "...parchment burning, but holy letters flying in the air."

The Menorah in the Holy Temple and the Menorot that we light in our homes, represent the Holy Spirit, the source of light. It is that light about which we read that at the time of Creation, "G-d said, 'Let there be light;' and there was light. And G-d saw that the light was good, and He divided between the light and between the darkness..." (Bereshit 1:2-3)

My father-in-law said that after the War, walking through his birthplace "was a high point of my life that was not only satisfying and gave me a very grateful feeling, but also a conviction that a force of free people will eventually prevail over the forces of tyranny." The Prophet Zechariah explains the inevitability of that victory, "...Not through armies and not through might, but through My Spirit, says HaShem, Master of Legions..." (Zechariah 4:6) On the "Chag HaUrims," the Festival of Lights, let us "Give thanks to Him Who makes the great luminaries, for His Kindness endures forever. (Psalms 136:7) And request of Him, "May You shine a new light on Zion, and may we all speedily merit its light." ("Birchot Kriat Shema")

L'Illuy Nishmat beni, Aharon Baruch Mordechai ben Pinchas Menachem
