Parashas Acharei Mos - "Physical and Spiritual "Physiology"

On Shabbos, two weeks ago, we recited Mevorchim HaChodesh for Chodesh Nisan, called in Jewish Tradition Chodesh HaAviv, the Month of Spring and Pesach, the great holiday of our liberation. As the color green emerges from the earth in the form of a lovely "carpet" of green grass, and leaves form on the trees, spring represents the renewal of nature, the renewal of hope, the renewal of faith. The green of spring was my mother, A"H's favorite color. I remember a science fiction story to the effect that when mankind had colonized Mars, everything available on earth could be duplicated, except the color green. There had to be shipments of plants from earth, so that the colonists could preserve their spiritual, mental and emotional health.

The Megilah that we will read on Shabbos Chol HaMoed Pesach is "Shir HaShirim," the Song of Songs, the metaphor of which is the springtime of the soul, when the rain separating it from HaShem has passed:

"My Beloved called out and said to me,
'Arise, My love, My fair one, and go forth.
For the winter has passed,
The season of rain is over, and it is gone.
The blossoms are seen in the land;
The time of your song has arrived,
And the voice of the turtledove is heard in our land.'" Shir HaShirim (2:11-12)

"I went down into the garden of nuts,
To see the fruit of the valley;
To see whether the vine had blossomed,
Whether the pomegranates were in flower;
Without my knowing it,
My soul set me among the chariots of a princely people." Shir HaShirim (7:11-12)

And Nusach Sefard, the Sefardic version of Tefilah, has changed the praise of HaShem in Shemoneh Esray to "Morid HaTal," the One Who causes the dew to form, for dew is a sign of daily renewal, and will someday soon be used by the Holy One to revive the dead:

"The depths of the earth yearn for His droplet;
By the remembrance of dew we exalt the omnipotence of G-d;
Therefore it is inserted into the Mussaf Prayer;
Dew that will be used to revive
Those sleeping in the clefts of the rock."
"Dew, let it drop sweetly on the blessed land,
With the delicacies of heaven satisfy us with blessing;
To enlighten from amid the darkness
The faithful and steadfast nation, that is drawn after You." (from Tefilas Tal)
